Item 3: Disciplinary Information

The individuals listed have not been involved in any disciplinary actions.

Item 4: Other Business Activities

One of our Managing Directors, Gary Gamm serves as an advisor to the board of a certain family limited partnership. Mr. Gamm's position as advisor involves guidance and decisions regarding investment of the partnership's assets. A portion of the partnership's assets are managed by Redstone.

Mr. Gamm further acts as the trustee of two trusts. As trustee, Mr. Gamm may decide how the trust assets are invested. A beneficiary of the trusts is a client of Redstone (although the trusts are not clients of Redstone and their accounts are not managed by Redstone.)

These business activities may present a conflict of interest because Mr. Gamm owes duties to the partnership and trusts outside of his Redstone activities and duties. To mitigate any perceived conflict of interest, all trades for these accounts are reviewed by the Chief Compliance Officer.

Part 2B of Form ADV: Firm Brochure Supplement

Mr. Gamm receives trustee and board fees for such activities. Any compensation from these activities is separate from any investment advisory fees charged through Redstone.

The other individuals listed above are not actively engaged in any other investment-related business activities outside of Redstone Advisors, Inc.

They are also not actively engaged in any other business or occupation that provides a substantial source of income, or that involves a substantial amount of time. If the business activities represent less than 10% of the supervised person's time and income, you may presume that they are not substantial.

Item 5: Additional Compensation

None of the above referenced individuals receive economic benefits from any non-clients for providing advisory services.

Item 6: Supervision

All supervised persons are supervised through regularly scheduled meetings, e-mails, and through our database management system. Any advice given to clients, any changes made to a client's portfolio structure, and/or any trades that take place in a client's account are monitored and reviewed by the Managing Director, Marc A. Vincent.

The following individual is responsible for supervising advisory activities on behalf of Redstone Advisors, Inc.:
